MASTER OF ENTERPRISE

POSTGRADUATE ■ 12 UNITS ■ DELIVERED ONLINE

MAKE IT. CHANGE IT. OWN IT.

The Master of Enterprise is a future-focused postgraduate degree that responds to disciplinary, professional, digital, economic, environmental, and social circumstances.

Build a course that adapts your degree to your changing needs from over 100 Monash Online units. Choose from one of three future-focused themes in digital, leadership or sustainability – or shape your future with your own path.

You'll study to empower your employability and impact the world in a degree that's designed to tackle the challenges of the future.

FLEXIBILITY

Choose your own path in this degree; digital, leadership or sustainability. Build your own course from over 100 Monash Online units – including new, specifically designed units addressing the challenges of the future. Students can also gain credit for a wide range of previous study.

We provide the framework and guidance for you to adapt your degree to meet your changing needs.

CONTENT

We anticipate and respond to the complexity of a constantly changing world by leading the evolution of disciplines and content. Meet the challenges of sustainability as a core competency for enterprise, society and the fostering of thriving communities.

Work on authentic problems and issues set by industry, community and government.

FUTURE-FOCUSED

Monash Online's Master of Enterprise is changing the rules of postgraduate education. Address the multifaceted issues of global and workforce challenges, as you rethink the growth model and dare to radically transform organisations. Meet future demands and respond to constantly changing disciplinary, professional, economic and social circumstances.

Experience education that empowers you to thrive in a future-focused world.

CHOOSE THE PATH OF YOUR FUTURE

BUILD YOUR OWN

Set your own path and choose a mixture of units from the three Master of Enterprise themes: digital, leadership and sustainable. Your future is yours to shape, and the units within the course continually developed in response to emerging areas of interest.

If you need greater flexibility and personalisation, choose to start with a single unit or stack units over time to create a Monash postgraduate degree.

ENTERPRISING LEADERSHIP

Become an enterprising leader who understands and contributes to the ideas and debates surrounding climate change, geopolitical security and thriving communities. Advance your leadership skills to drive transformation by fusing technological progress and sustainability through business strategy.

DIGITAL ENTERPRISE

How can digital futures be leveraged for growth? Investigate how digital innovation can pose or answer the big questions (for organisations and society), and the impact of the mobilisation of digital technology within an organisational ecosystem. With your knowledge, lead the future of digital landscapes into an era of sustainable growth.

SUSTAINABLE ENTERPRISE

Take your career in a new direction – explore how enterprise and society can meet the present and future needs of operating profitably and sustainably, whilst accelerating societal change, the economy and the preservation of environmental integrity.
